

Seattle, WA

In the 10 years I've been with Wells Fargo Advisors, I have been solely committed to my advisors' professional growth, and I leverage every resource at my disposal to help them achieve their clients' goals. After all, isn't that what this is all about?

In my role as Branch Manager, I take a servant leadership approach to service and support my branch team members. I enjoy working at Wells Fargo Advisors because it provides a client-centric culture and multi-channel offerings that provide choice and flexibility. We listen to our team members and are responsive to their needs. In addition, Wells Fargo is a charitable organization that impacts local communities through volunteerism, community involvement, and charitable giving.

Our firm has a strong commitment to the communities that we serve in Washington. In 2020, Wells Fargo and its employees contributed more than $4.3 million to Washington nonprofits, schools, and community organizations, as well as $500,000 from its Open for Business Fund. Additionally, in the year prior, low- and moderate-income families and individuals were given $9.4 billion through more than 20,000 mortgage loans.

Regardless of where you'd be joining the downtown Seattle branch from, our team and our community is ready to welcome you. We have plenty of resources available to support your transition, and we have one of the most robust and complete transition plans in the industry. We strive to provide the most effective and seamless transition to all of our Financial Advisors to help ensure business success and a superior client experience.

"If you want to take control of the future – for your clients, for your business, and for yourself – then look no further than Wells Fargo Advisors. You can take your career to the next level here, and I'll be with you every step of the way."

– Min Kim, CFA®

Min Kim, CFA®
Branch Manager
Senior Vice President

About Min Kim

Prior to beginning my career, I graduated from the University of Washington with a degree in Business Administration, and I am currently an Executive MBA candidate at Northwestern University. I also hold the Chartered Financial Analyst® (CFA®) designation, and my securities registrations include the FINRA Series 3, 7, 63, 66, 9 and 10.

Away from the office, I am an avid Seattle Seahawks, Mariners, and Sounders fan, as well as a devoted supporter of the University of Washington Huskies. I enjoy traveling, golfing, and exploring new culinary experiences. In my additional free time, I also enjoy volunteering time as a Development Committee Member for Washington Autism Alliance & Advocacy.

About the Seattle, WA Branch

The Seattle branch offers you unprecedented options in how you work within Wells Fargo Advisors through our multi-channel business model structure. This includes building your own business as an independent Financial Advisor, growing your business in a traditional brokerage branch-office environment, or focusing on expanding your business while serving referral clients within Wells Fargo Advisors' branch offices.

Our multi-channel business model, scale, and training programs combine the capabilities and best practices of a large, national firm with a client focus more typical of smaller firms. We provide you with the support you need to grow your business, from technological innovations and advisory resources to marketing materials and much, much more.

Next steps

I'd like to get together with you to discuss why so many talented advisors like yourself are now calling Wells Fargo Advisors home. You can contact me today at min.kim@wfa.com, or by calling my office at (206) 344-6617.

Wells Fargo
helps strengthen communities through:

- Diversity and inclusion – Ensure all people feel respected and have equal access to resources and opportunities to succeed.
- Economic empowerment – Strengthen financial self-sufficiency and economic opportunities in underserved communities.
- Sustainability – Accelerate a just transition to a low-carbon economy.